

THE DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY & THE GRADUATE PROGRAMS
IN SUSTAINABLE INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND HEALTH,
THE INTERNATIONAL CENTER FOR ETHICS, JUSTICE, AND PUBLIC LIFE
AND THE PROGRAMS IN HISTORY OF IDEAS, PEACE & CONFLICT STUDIES, INTERNATIONAL AND GLOBAL STUDIES, SOCIAL JUSTICE AND SOCIAL POLICY AND HEALTH: SCIENCE, SOCIETY AND POLICY

present

The Inaugural Human Rights & Social Justice Lecture

Thomas Pogge

Thomas Pogge is the Director of Yale's Global Justice Program and Leitner Professor of Philosophy and International Affairs. He is the world's leading spokesperson for freedom from poverty as a human right and author of World Poverty and Human Rights and Politics As Usual: What Lies Behind the Pro-Poor Rhetoric? as well as co-editor of Global Justice and Global Ethics. His current work focuses on poverty and inequality, gender disparities, and global health.

What Do Human Rights Demand of Us?

October 8, 2013
5:10 – 7:00 pm

ZINNER FORUM
The Heller School
for Social Policy and Management

